

Manice Education Center

Wilderness Camp Director

Christodora, a non-sectarian, non-profit organization, announces an exciting full-time opportunity for an experienced camp director at the Manice Education Center (MEC), located in the Berkshire Mountains of Western Massachusetts. Since 1897, Christodora: Nature, Learning, Leadership has been helping New York City youth from under-resourced communities flourish and succeed, recently receiving a nationally recognized 'Hi Impact' award in 2018 for being a leader in the social and emotional learning of youth aged 11-18. MEC's co-ed, residential camp programs serve 44 campers at a time during five 1-3 week long summer programs that center around 2 to 5 day backpacking and canoeing expeditions, as well as shoulder seasons booked with ten 3-day field trips for NYC schools in the spring and fall. Christodora's successful programs in environmental education, leadership training, and wilderness expeditions are steeped in tradition and build from a foundation of trust that is developed from a 1:5 staff to camper ratio. Job Availability: Accepting applications for full-time year-round continuance Engaging as a key team member, the Wilderness Camp Director brings a high level of positive energy while providing effective leadership for operations at the Manice Education Center. The Camp Director will maintain and cultivate a well-established program that meets both state regulations and national best practices and will work closely with an experienced Assistant Director to lead trainings and empower between 6 and 12 outdoor educators. A primary role of the Wilderness Camp Director is to ensure safe programming through daily on-site supervision, approval of camp activities and risk management plans, being a leader during any camp emergencies--including on-call responsibilities. The Camp Director will also engage services from existing vendors, approve supply requisitions, and work with the Caretaker to sustain already well-maintained facilities and grounds. The Camp Director will also work with long-standing partner schools to ensure booking of the spring and fall field trip programs, as well as remotely for Christodora's Winter Ecology Program in New York City.

We are seeking candidates who:

- Have at least 2 years of prior experience as a residential camp director. Ideal candidates would possess a wilderness first responder certification or would be willing to attain.
- Have high energy and outstanding prior performance as a leader with positive and effective communication skills.
- Are passionate about positively impacting youth and can easily build rapport with a broad and diverse population from low-income neighborhoods in New York City.
- Have prior experience overseeing challenge course activities, backpacking & canoeing trips, and are able to provide training, and as necessary, direct field support.
- Are experienced in making effective leadership decisions during emergency procedures, and can respond as needed to directly manage camp and expedition programs.
- Have prior experience in managing budgets
- Preferred but not required: Are able to easily spark an interest in the natural sciences and possess experience teaching environmental education lessons/activities in informal camp settings to middle school and high school aged youth.

Requirements:

- Excellent motivational, organizational, and communication skills; BA/BS in a related discipline.
- At least 2 years of experience as a residential camp director. Prefer candidates familiar with American Camping Association accreditation standards and prior senior leadership experience for wilderness expeditionary programming.
- First Aid/ CPR Certification required. Wilderness First Responder and CPR/AED Certifications that will be current for the start of the April 2020 season is preferred.
- Waterfront Lifeguarding Certification is preferred—yet not required. Water Safety Instructor certification highly desired.
- Local regulations require candidates to be at least 25 year old.
- Current Driver's License and a Safe Driving Record. Must be comfortable driving 15 passenger vans and towing a canoe trailer and small equipment trailer.
- Background clearances, references, and medical physical.

The Manice Education Center is a residential program and requires the Director to live on-site or nearby from April through October. The Director is part of an on-call support system.

Salary/Benefits: Competitive weekly salary D.O.E.; housing; equipment discounts; meals during Manice Education Center operating season. Benefits available for full-time year-round applicants.
