

Manice Education Center AmeriCorps Outdoor Educator Assistant Town of Florida, MA 01247

Christodora, a 124-year-old nonprofit, nonsectarian organization, based in NYC, seeks AmeriCorps Outdoor Educator Assistants to serve at its Manice Education Center (MEC) located in the heart of the Berkshire Mountains of Western Massachusetts on a 200-acre wooded campus. This is an exciting opportunity to contribute to a tightly knit camp community while earning up to $1,678 toward educational expenses upon the successful completion of a quarter-time service term. MEC offers residential outdoor environmental and expedition education programs for approximately 950 youth from New York City from April through October each year. In spring and fall, MEC hosts two environmental education field trips each week for NYC public schools for approximately 40 students during each trip; and in summer, MEC offers a full season of expedition and environmental education camps for NYC youth in grades 6-12 with approximately 40 campers at each of the typically five sessions: exploratory, foundational, advanced, high school leadership training course, and BRIDGE. Enjoy serving as a Corps member in a phenomenal setting for nature enthusiasts and outdoor adventurers in a forested playground, sandwiched between two state forests and multiple rivers and ponds.

Join our Team: June 7 – Aug 26, 2021

Summer Training Opportunities

- SOLO Wilderness First Aid (WFA), CPR, Red Cross Waterfront Lifeguarding, professional tandem canoe skill clinic, and overnight backpacking and camping skills
- All educators receive hands-on training in the delivery of an experientially driven curriculum, low-element challenge course facilitation, and ongoing professional development as an outdoor and environmental educator in a program using cutting edge techniques in youth development

Responsibilities

- Facilitate teamwork, communication, leadership skills, trust, and social development outcomes through outdoor activities
- Inspire curiosity about the natural world through discovery-based activities in forested ecosystems. Use our testing equipment and interact with live exhibits in our science lab
- Introduce gardening, composting and small-scale farming with small flock of chickens
- Learn and teach wilderness survival skills including primitive fire making, shelter building, and foraging for wild edibles
- Lead nighttime hikes to see the stars and the magic of bioluminescence
- Lead overnight supervision of four to five youth in canvas-walled, cabin-style, platform tents and take responsibility for the daily living arrangements of your tent
- Celebrate with skits, music, and s'mores at our campfire program - rain or shine in a gazebo surrounded by forest - that can seat the entire campus
- Work closely with other educators in your activity group to create meaningful, problem-based, experiential, and active environmental science lessons

Outdoor Educator Assistants in our Summer Programs lead environmental and expedition explorations in a range of camp sessions 10-14 days in length including: overnight wilderness excursions backpacking/canoeing for 1-3 days in length; lead youth in service projects to improve publicly used wilderness areas and trails; science explorations; and other camp-based programs.
